Individual student assignments

For teachers

What's new?

Teachers will now be able to assign tasks (practice activities and tests) to one or more students in a class.

The benefits

The capability allows teachers to

- Allocate tasks tailored to individual competency levels
- Adjust materials based on the unique performance and progress of each student
- Ensure every student receives the support they need to succeed

How does it work?

- Teachers can create an assignment for one or several students in a class through an additional step in the Cambridge One assignment creation journey.
- Having selected the 'Create assignment' button on the assignment tab for their class, chosen the material and activities they wish to include and entered the assignment name, start date and time details, they progress to the new, student selection page. Here they can keep all the students selected for a whole-class assignment or deselect the students they wish to exclude from the assignment.
